Concept Question 6-8: Why is phase less important than magnitude when designing filters?

When designing filters, we wish to emphasize certain bands of frequencies, and reject other bands of frequencies. The effect of the filter on the size of the components at frequencies $\omega = \pm\omega_0$ is determined by the magnitude $|\mathbf{H}(j\omega_0)|$ of the frequency response function.