Concept Question 7-15: Why do we solve difference equations using the time-delay property of z-transforms instead of the right-shift property?

Using the time-delay property allows us to incorporate initial conditions $\{x[-1], x[-2], \dots\}$.